Property Details

This unique 12,000 s.f. interior remodel fit-up is located in downtown Louisville, Ky. on the third floor of the Breckenridge Tech Center. There will be a reception area, lounge/café area, 14 offices, a meeting room, a production area, a development room, a break room, a large training area, and restrooms. There will be curved office walls, several interior glass walls, a unique café type lounge area for customers, artificial grass areas for a park like feel, and contemporary lighting systems. It will be very colorful and hi-tech looking as you can see from the renderings here within. Congratulations to OOhology for their new office headquarters.
