Dear Mark:

Now that your company has concluded your work here at the Wellman Church, I want on behalf of our church board, to extend to you my grateful appreciation for your superb oversight of the recent construction project. Although this was no doubt a "small" project for your company, it was a large undertaking for the church here. And your personal interest and cooperation made a lengthy, and somewhat trying project, go so much easier.

Although I realize you are relatively "new" to the construction business—as far as your current responsibilities are concerned—I'm confident you will go far in the business, if you choose to remain in it. You demonstrated to me and the board, a standard of excellence, understanding and patience. You were always accessible and available. Aside from the one subcontractor, all the subcontractors you used were quality craftsmen.

If you ever need to use myself and the church here for future recommendations, please feel free to contact us.

Again, thank you so much.

Wishing you the very best for your future success.

Sincerely,

Ralph I. Tilley

P.S. Your father has every reason to be proud of the work you did for us. —RIT
